

Depositphotos Stock Photo Agency Received Investment from TMT Investments

Depositphotos, the fastest growing stock photo agency in the world, announced a significant investment contract with TMT Investments

Online PR News – 06-September-2011 Depositphotos, the fastest growing stock photo agency in the world, announced a significant investment contract with TMT Investments.

Based in Florida (USA), Depositphotos was founded in 2009, and soon established itself as a cost-effective alternative for the acquisition of high-quality stock photo images. It proved itself as a first stock photo agency to offer bonus payments without hidden withdrawal conditions for every single image photographers uploaded for sale. Continued improvements of Depositphotos' service together with a successful marketing strategy contributed to the most significant growth in the microstock industry. During the last year the company website traffic increased tenfold and reached 1.8 million visitors per month. The number of images offered by the company exceeded 4 million.

“When negotiations began, Depositphotos was just a speculative project. Now, it is a resource on equal footing with its competitors. Investment capital will be directed at incorporating new features, improving the quality and functionality of the service, and increasing the company’s market share. We’re engaged in a serious business and intend to perform serious work,” says Igor Kalyuzhny, Head of Depositphotos’ departments in Eastern and Western Europe.

TMT Investments has committed to an investment of up to 3 million dollars (US) in the next year.

“When negotiations began, Depositphotos was just a speculative project. Now, it is a resource on equal footing with its competitors.
