

Best States for Retirement List Announced at Topretirements.com

At cocktail parties around the country millions of baby boomers are starting to ask the same question - "what is the best state to retire in?" To help answer that question Topretirements.com, the "Best places to retire" website, has just published a list of the 15 most popular retirement states.

Here is the 2010 list, based on the states which received the most online visits at Topretirements: 1. Florida. 2. North Carolina. 3. Tennessee. 4. South Carolina. 5. California. 6. Arizona. 7. Texas. 8. Colorado. 9. Oregon. 10. Delaware 11. Washington. 12. Georgia. 13. New Mexico. 14. Virginia. 15. Kentucky.

Not surprisingly, most of the most popular retirement states are in the Sunbelt, along with two from the Northwest. John Brady, President of Topretirements, commented: "Retirement state preferences continue to be in flux. The Sunbelt states will always be popular. But states like Tennessee and Delaware have been moving up in retirement popularity because of their lower cost and/or lower tax structures."

Visitors at Topretirements can view the list of the 15 Most Popular Retirement States along with a short explanation of the major attractions for each state. Links in that article go to detailed state retirement guides with information about taxes, cost of living, and best retirement towns in those states.
