

American General Life Now Available On XRAE Life Insurance Underwriting Software

Rolling Solutions LLC announced today that the insurers of American General Life Companies have become participating carriers on XRAE, the life insurance industry's leading multi-carrier field underwriting and quick-quoting software.

Online PR News – 27-January-2010 Danville, CA: Rolling Solutions LLC announced today that the insurers of American General Life Companies have become participating carriers on XRAE, the life insurance industry's leading multi-carrier field underwriting and quick-quoting software. XRAE enables its participating carriers to provide immediate underwriting quotes based on their proprietary underwriting rules to the brokerage agencies, direct marketers and agents distributing their products.

We are excited to have American General join the growing list of XRAE carriers.

“The leading carriers in the life insurance industry recognize that their distribution partners are streamlining the way they do business and that field underwriting is one of the most time-consuming elements of the process. Life insurance distributors, from brokerage agencies to direct marketers, are using XRAE to quote the right class the first time and dramatically improve their placement ratios and response times to their agents,” said Tom Bellig, CEO, Rolling Solutions. “We are excited to have American General join the growing list of XRAE carriers.” Brad Gabel, Chief Underwriter for American General Life Companies, added that “American General is pleased to join the list of carriers working through XRAE to help you obtain timely and accurate quotes.”

About Rolling Solutions LLC

XRAE was developed by Rolling Solutions to address the time and frustration associated with the beginning of the life insurance sales process. Before a price can be quoted or an application selected, the correct underwriting class must be determined. XRAE enables users to quickly enter medical information about a client and instantly receive the correct underwriting class from multiple insurance carriers, including substandard classes. XRAE's participating carriers provide proprietary underwriting rules to the system so their distributors can receive immediate, accurate quick quotes for almost all of their cases.

XRAE was formally rolled out to the insurance industry at NAILBA 2008 and has been widely adopted by carriers, brokerage agencies, agents and direct marketers of insurance. For more information, visit www.xrae.com.
