Vacation Rentals May Set Occupancy Record For 2010 World Series Of Poker As More Participants Choose Homes For WSOP

Online PR News – 04-February-2010 “More than half of our inventory booked in January”, “We typically don’t see that until March. Then there is a mad scramble for everything that’s left by the end of April.” Says Linda Logan of Las Vegas Retreats. “Many players, including some of our regulars, are going to be disappointed to find that their favorite home is already booked” she said. “We offer our vacation rental homes during the World Series of Poker WSOP period as complete packages. It’s very popular”.

Most regular players know by now that even the best hotel accommodations become cramped and confining over the six week run of the event, A hotel casino environment is not really where most players want to be between competitions. They prefer staying in the peace and quiet of something closer to their own home.

A Las Vegas vacation home rental is the obvious choice. “Ordering room service for every single meal quickly becomes old. Players staying in our vacation homes eat their own food. The dollar savings are well worth the difference.”

Most players prefer the environment of a quiet private vacation home rental versus the chaos of the casino and hundreds of vacationing families. Vacation homes in Las Vegas usually include private pools and spas. Obviously this is better if you are participating in any poker tournament. Having peace and quiet and your own tranquil atmosphere is superior for maintaining lucid head over the long run of the event.

Use good judgment when booking a vacation home. A quick visit to websites like Complaints.com and the Southern Nevada Better Business Bureau website can help you avoid any problems. We recommend booking with an Accredited company. The Better Business Bureau gives Las Vegas Retreats an A Rating for customer care. This will be important to you the very moment you need it!
