Music for Scotland agency is hosting a wedding band showcase event at the Classic Grand in Glasgow on April 7th.

Online PR News – 14-March-2010 Entertainment agency Music for Scotland will be hosting a wedding band showcase at the Classic Grand in Glasgow on Wednesday 7th April, from 7.45pm. Six of the agency's best wedding bands will be performing live including T O'Connor Band, Cut the Cake, Wildcard, Four Souls 4 Sale, Franco, and the Jammy Devils. The bands will each perform for 15 minutes giving the clients a real chance to listen to the musicians playing live. Music for Scotland recently filmed one of their earlier wedding band showcase events from January last year so that potential customers can see highlights of the bands before coming to the live showcase. All of the wedding bands were filmed in High definition video which can be viewed on the Music for Scotland website.

Richard Lyon from Music for Scotland says "We are really excited about using the Classic Grand in Glasgow again." He went on to say "The 300 capacity venue is ideal for hosting this showcase. It's both accessible and comfortable for our customers; an intimate venue perfect for seeing good music up close and also enjoying a relaxing drink whilst taking in the six Glasgow wedding bands that will be performing. From our past experience of hosting wedding band showcases feedback has always been very positive as it gives prospective clients the chance to see a variety of bands all under one roof".

The Music for Scotland team will be on hand to answer any questions and a deal with booking enquiries. To secure any of the bands from the showcase a £50 booking fee will be required and can be paid by cash or cheque. Details on how to get to the venue can be found on the wedding bands showcase website.

Music for Scotland represents a selection of Scotland's best live wedding bands, artists and DJs. Wedding bands from Glasgow and Edinburgh, as well as Aberdeen, Dundee, Central Scotland and Fife are represented by the agency. To find the right band or entertainment for events, customers can browse the Music for Scotland website and submit a booking enquiry from through the website. Music for Scotland provides a guarantee that every enquiry receives a reply within 24 hours.
