NEW Nylon Hanging Triple Layered Butterfly Decor Set

Bugs-n-Blooms, a retailer of everything from children's tutu skirts to nylon butterfly decorations for nursery rooms, will be featured in an upcoming issue of OK! Magazine, set to hit newsstands April 3.

Online PR News – 29-March-2010 Prosper, Texas – Bugs-n-Blooms, a retailer of everything from children's tutu skirts to nylon butterfly decorations for nursery rooms, will be featured in an upcoming issue of OK! Magazine, set to hit newsstands April 3.

The article, which is centered on Trista Sutter's daughter's upcoming Wonderland-themed birthday party, will highlight some of the products supplied by Bugs-n-Blooms. "I sent all kinds of things over for the party and photo shoot," said Jennifer De Vol, owner of the company. "Pink crystal butterflies, pink and green two-tone flowers, pink shimmer wands, mini butterflies, layered flowers – I sent a lot," De Vol continued.

This isn't De Vol's first national feature. Her decorations have been wildly popular with parents (celebrity and otherwise) since she launched her company. Products from Bugs-n-Blooms were also featured on ABC's Extreme Makeover: Home Edition. For parents looking for something specific, De Vol's team can create custom designs.

Bugs-n-Blooms is the premiere supplier for children's wall applications, bug and flower décor and dress-up accessories. With a wide variety of products and price ranges to choose from, every parent (and kid!) is sure to find something special at Bugs-n-Blooms!
