Credit Card Merchant Processing Company, BluePay, Expands E-commerce Services by Offering Secure Hosted Payment Forms.

~~Online PR News – 26-May-2010~~ NAPERVILLE, ILL. - BluePay, a leading merchant account service provider headquartered in the Chicago suburbs and serving clients nationwide, introduces its secure hosted payment forms. The new payment processing solution allows merchants and e-commerce clients to accept payments online through a secure Web form hosted on BluePay's server, designed to match the merchant's website while processing customers' credit card information safely and efficiently.

"Security is a huge concern for merchants and consumers alike when it comes to online payment forms," said Kristen Gramigna, director of BluePay. "Our payment forms keep data safe within BluePay's PCI Compliant servers rather than the merchant's site, increasing security and reducing the PCI DSS (Payment Card Industry Data Security Standard) scope for the merchant. By using BluePay to host the payment form, card information is not being transferred or stored by the merchant, saving them thousands of dollars annually on their PCI certifications."

Through BluePay's hosted payment forms, combined with tokenization security features, clients can accept credit card payments online, in addition to debit cards and ACH payments, without having access to customers' sensitive information. The payment form retains the look and feel of the merchant's website yet is hosted on BluePay's secure server. Customers also have the option to make recurring payments as frequently as needed, from annual and quarterly billing down to daily recurring billing, depending on their preference.

"As consumers rely more on convenient online payments and e-commerce to fit their busy lifestyles, the need for secure payment options that protect customers and merchants increases as well," said Gramigna. "At BluePay, we are committed to providing effective solutions that not only streamline the payment processing system, but secure sensitive information through PCI standards and effective security features."
