Electronic Cigarette

The average cigarette smoker who converts to e cigarettes will save $1000-$1500 a year depending on cost of liquid and if they are buying pre-filled cartridges or filling their own. A good electronic cigarette will cost around $75-$100 for something you will be satisfied with.

Online PR News – 25-July-2010 Popular e cig review site, Electronic Cigarette Nation, is speaking out against the free trial offers that many companies offer. When Electronic Cigarettes arrived on the scene in 2006, there were only a few established companies that sold the electronic cigarette online. Now in 2010, you Google electronic cigarette and come up with 9,380,000 sites. Rest assured that there are not 9 million electronic cigarette companies out there, the majority of these sites are landing pages, incomplete pages, and trial or free offers for the new electronic cigarette.

While the cost of the e cig may seem high at first, remember to take into account the savings made from the cartridges. Ryan Kibbe of Electronic Cigarette Nation states that "The average cigarette smoker who converts to e cigarettes will save $1000-$1500 a year depending on cost of liquid and if they are buying pre-filled cartridges or filling their own." A good electronic cigarette will cost around $75-$100 for something you will be satisfied with. The price is not the only factor, you need to be sure to look for what type of e cigarette it is, and the reputation of the company. While we consider many other factors when reviewing e cigarettes, these are the main points to look at before we conduct a review at Electronic Cigarette Nation.

The Free Trial Electronic Cigarettes have stormed the markets by feeding on users who do not know much about e cigs. They offer a short free trial period and it often starts when you place your order. The consumers are left with a week or less to figure out what they want to do. Many sites require the electronic cigarette to be returned within the trial period to receive credit as well, which creates a 1 or 2 day decision on electronic cigarettes. There have been many reports of services making it near impossible to cancel and then charge the consumer over $100 and enroll them in an auto-renewing cartridge program.

The real truth is that anything labeled as a Free Trial E Cig should be approached with caution. When a consumer visits a website, they should see a guarantee, a phone number to call, and a website with more than one page. Should you encounter a site without these, it is our recommendation that you leave the page without purchasing.

Electronic Cigarette Nation believes that most people who try the e cigarette from established companies will have a great experience and not want to go back to analog cigarettes. For those of you who are not sure if electronic cigarettes are for you, don't worry. There are several ways to get a risk free electronic cigarette without getting a painful credit card billing. When you go with established programs, you are given a money-back guarantee that will be honored. They understand the electronic cigarette is not for everyone, but know that the majority of users will be satisfied. The companies with strong recommendation from Electronic Cigarette Nation are:

Premium Electronic Cigarette (30 Day Money Back Guarantee)

The Safe Cig (30 Day Satisfaction Guarantee)

Blu Cigs (30 Day Money Back Guarantee)

Green Smoke (30 Day Money Back Guarantee)

Electronic Cigarettes Inc (14 Day Satisfaction Guarantee)

Now that you are aware of the free trial scam and have some reputable companies to look at, we recommend you head over to <http://electroniccigarettenation.com> and read the reviews to narrow down your results more. The C.E.O. of Electronic Cigarette Nation, Joe Sweeney said, "We will not put a brand that is questionable on our website as we want to ensure the best electronic cigarette experiences for everyone."
