Treadmill owners now have one place to find manufacturers, parts providers, repair businesses, and other service providers.

Online PR News – 25-July-2010 Treadmillreview.wordpress.com, a source of news and information on treadmills, now hosts the first online directory specifically for the treadmills. The directory lists treadmill manufacturers and service providers, as well as providing basic information and contact information on them.

“There has gotten to be so much information out there on this industry. It's good to see it all being compiled in one place.” says Robert Braun, VP of Sales of Treadmill-World.com.

Submissions to the directory are free. Currently, there is no link-back or other requirement, other than a listing be relevant and helpful. The directory is has been developed in conjunctions with Treadmill-World, a leading online source for name brand exercise equipment for delivery directly from the manufacturer to the customer. See the Treadmill Directory or learn more about the treadmill industry.
