The Official BenzoFury Distribution Logo - look for this as a certificate of authenticity of a supplier!

Benzo Fury has finally arrived in the UK and now many of the avid researchers are rushing to test this product within their institutions and communities. Pre orders are now being taken and deliveries expected within the coming week

Online PR News – 27-July-2010 Benzo Fury release date is fast approaching and with only a few days left before the big bang, the official distributors are doing their best to get as much information to the research community as possible.

Benzo Fury will only be available in pellet form, although in the future the manufacturer may release this to the research community in its natural state, however they have yet to release information as to when this will happen. It may be towards the end of the year, future press releases will no doubt keep the research institution and chemistry labs informed.

1st August 2010: With so many recent delays it is not surprising that many people are doubting whether the product will keep to the deadline. So far no more hiccups have occurred and the avid research community can finally get the real thing

Who are the 5 Official Distributors and why?

The manufacturer wanted to keep this as controlled as possible and therefore has chosen 5 top websites to take this product and market it to the UK. It has been developed in such a way that no others can replicate it and those that attempt fall flat on their face immediately as has been recently evidenced in some of the major forums.

To find out who the 5 official suppliers are, visit the Benzo Fury Official Distribution page.
