www.youtube.com/myleswilliamtv . Producer/songwriter Myles William, worked in collaboration with Executive Producer Jeremy Taylor, Director Jeffrey Hart, cinematographer Shaunt Trout, and Intercontinentals' VP of Promotions Christopher Moraites. Myles William was joined by vocal artists Strictly Biniz and Mychal Rivera along with many talented dancers and crew members in the creation of the 'I'm So Fly' video.

Although known mainly as a producer/songwriter, Myles William along with long time friend, Mychal Rivera and rising rap artist Strictly Biniz are the lead vocalists. The concept of the music video was developed by Director Jeffrey Hart and fashioned on the making of a hip-hop music video. When Director Jeffrey Hart heard about the opportunity to be involved in this video he said "I'm out in LA, I would love to do this video get me to Florida".

The release of the I'm So Fly music video now adds imagery to Myles William's music portfolio, which consists of a diverse creative range of material. In addition to writing and producing Beats for himself and other artists, Myles William has written and produced music for radio commercials, sung on radio show theme music, written and produced music for documentaries and films and is currently in the studio in NYC recording his upcoming project. When asked about his next project Myles William said "I'm currently working on a fusion of Hip Hop with electro/dance and alternative rock".
